Invitation to Participate

It is with enormous pleasure that we invite you to Lisbon for the 4th ECCA conference. For the first time ECCA is being organised in a southern European city, which provides the unique opportunity to discuss the specific impacts of climate change and adaptation solutions in this region. In the transition to the next decade we need to find together the best solutions to deal with climate change and extreme weather events. Only a collaborative and coherent approach from all sectors of society will allow us to better prepare for change. We will bring together people from businesses, European, national and local governments, research institutes and NGOs to share experiences and find new ways to collaborate to increase societies climate resilience.

The conference will attract more than 1,000 delegates from all over the world and offers you a unique opportunity to show your expertise and engagement with climate change adaptation and disaster risk reduction.

Lisbon has been at the forefront in the planning and implementation of processes and measures to become more climate resilient. Come to Lisbon, a well-recognised European green city in southern Europe, and share ideas on how we can better work together to prepare for change.

Mário Pulquério
ECCA 2019 Conference Chair

ECCA 2019 is co-organised by the EU-funded projects PLACARD, BINGO and RESCCUE

Invitation to Participate

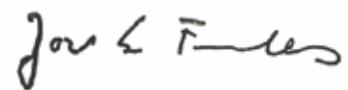

Climate change is becoming increasingly a local issue with the rise in urban populations. Cities occupy only 2% of the world's landmass but they consume over 2/3 of the world's energy and are responsible for more than 70% of global CO2 emissions. Also 90% of urban areas are located on coastlines, leaving cities at a higher risk for some of the most devastating effects of climate change, such as rising sea levels and coastal storms. As an Environment Councillor of a European capital and coastal city, I am aware of the our responsibility and ability to win the world's fight against climate change.

For the past decade, we have been strongly engaged in building a sustainable future for Lisboa. A future with an economy based on creativity and innovation, leaving no one behind and focusing on environmentally sustainable activities. And, not least important, a future based on human dignity, openness and tolerance as key values of our society. We know that this will only be achieved by building our policies on the state-of-the-art scientific knowledge, learning from our peers and from scientific experts across Europe. This is why we are pleased to receive in 2019 the European Climate Change Adaptation (ECCA 2019) conference in Lisboa. ECCA 2019 will be a key event to raise awareness of climate change and address global resilience needs. With this in mind I look forward to welcoming delegates at ECCA 2019 to exchange ideas and knowledge on how we can collectively improve climate change.

You will be visiting the recently awarded European Green Capital 2020 with the aim to be one of the most sustainable cities in Europe but also one of the best in the world to live in. You will also be able to enjoy our amazing Atlantic sea views, cultural events, restaurants and bars and an extremely warm, open, tolerant and welcoming people. I am sure you will enjoy "my Lisboa" as much as you will enjoy the Lisboa ECCA 2019 conference.

On behalf of the City Council and the Mayor, I hope to welcome you in Lisboa!

José Sá Fernandes,

Lisboa Councilor for Environment, Green Structure, Climate and Energy

About ECCA 2019

The changing climate poses many challenges for society and needs a breadth of integrated and cross-sectoral solutions. At ECCA 2019, we'll bring together adaptation and resilience specialists with diverse experience to share knowledge and ideas.

ECCA 2019 is an opportunity to share and learn from professionals in adaptation, while discovering new products and research as well as alternative approaches to engaging with stakeholders. Our themes are:

- Data, methods and approaches in climate change adaptation and disaster risk reduction
- Co-production of knowledge, solutions and services
- Communication, data-sharing and decision support
- Institutions, governance, citizens and social justice
- Global climate challenges
- Climate risk management and resilience.

Organising Committee

PLACARD – PLATform for Climate Adaptation and Risk reDuction – is a hub for dialogue, knowledge exchange and collaboration between the climate change adaptation (CCA) and disaster risk reduction (DRR) communities. PLACARD provides a common space where the communities can share experiences and create opportunities for collaboration and supports the coordination and coherence of CCA and DRR research, policy and practice.

BINGO – Bringing INnovation to onGOing water management – a better future under climate change – aims to provide practical knowledge and tools to end users, water managers, decision and policy makers affected by climate change to enable them to better cope with all climate projections, including droughts and floods. The project involves 20 European Partners from six countries, including research and innovation centres, water authorities, water users and companies.

RESCCUE – RESilience to cope with Climate Change in Urban arEas – is Europe's first large-scale innovation and urban resilience project to improve the capability of cities to anticipate, prepare for, respond to, and recover from significant multi-hazard threats with minimum damage.

About Lisbon

Lisbon always offers something special to its visitors and however many descriptions you have read, you will only know which Lisbon is yours once you have arrived here.

We will lend the climate, colours, gastronomy, history, diverse culture life and the breathtaking landscape in the surroundings to your visit. Legend has it that Lisbon was founded by Ulysses. The name comes from "Olissipo", which has its origins in the Phoenician words "Allis Ubbo", meaning "enchanted port".

Come and discover Lisbon, the recently awarded European Green Capital 2020, a historical city full of stories to tell, where the sun shines 290 days a year and the temperature rarely drops below 15°C. A city where you feel safe wandering around day or night, where the cuisine is dedicated to creating over a thousand ways to cook the beloved bacalhau (salted cod), and where you'll find hotels and restaurants to suit every taste, budget and requirement.

Discover Lisbon, a city full of authenticity where old customs and ancient history intermix with cultural entertainment, environmental sustainability evidence and hi-tech innovation. Lisbon is ageless, but it loves company, as you'll find out if you meet someone and ask them to explain, with lots of gestures and repetition, where the best place is to listen to Fado. After all, Lisbon is famous for its hospitality and the family-like way it welcomes visitors.

About the venue

Located in the west of Lisbon, overlooking the Tagus river and harmoniously integrated into its architectural surroundings, dominated by the splendid Mosteiro dos Jerónimos, and with the Torre de Belém just a stone's throw away, the Centro Cultural de Belém is a historical meeting point in Lisbon, designed to be just a small part of the city both in terms of its geography and in its relationship with the river.

The Centro Cultural de Belém was designed by the architects Vittorio Gregotti and Manuel Salgado to function as an "open city", with buildings, gardens (designed by the landscape architect Francisco Caldeira Cabral), streets and plazas, among which the CCB Plaza stands out because of its noble appearance. It is a building that successfully combines an exhibition centre, multipurpose rooms, auditoria for symphony music, opera and the performing arts, a Congress and Conference Centre, shops and services. The CCB engages in a dialogue with the city, celebrating culture and opening up intense programme of activities to all forms of cultural events.
